

Take your seat in City Hall

Toronto is preparing for the future. We need your ideas to shape the city we want, and the long-term plan to pay for it. Bring your passion for your city to:

Debate

how the City can balance both its books and its long-term priorities

Collaborate

with community organizations, other members of the public and the City

Create

a financial path that brings us closer to the city we want

Saturday, April 22, 2017
